

Interactivity using touch screen or keypad

Due to the size of the screen, it is not possible for people with handicaps to touch the upper part of the screen, but it is very uncomfortable for people without handicaps to operate the lower part. Furthermore, with a touch screen you have to move away from the screen a little bit to keep an overview. The keyboard can be positioned a bit away from the screen.